IMPORTANT 2025 TAX INFORMATION PLEASE RETAIN FOR YOUR TAX RETURN PREPARATION

Recent legislation introduces a temporary but impactful change to the tax treatment of personal-use car loan interest. For tax years 2025 through 2028, certain individuals may be able to claim a tax deduction for interest paid on a loan or retail installment contract to purchase qualifying passenger vehicles.

This summary outlines the potential availability of the “No Tax on Car Loan Interest” deduction. It is the responsibility of the taxpayer to determine whether the requirements for claiming the deduction are met. Eligibility depends on individual circumstances (e.g., your income, the vehicle is for personal use, etc.). As tax laws are subject to change, borrowers are strongly encouraged to consult with a qualified tax advisor to assess their specific situation.
